

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
GALVESTON DIVISION

Jerry Rodriguez, on behalf of himself and others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

Remy Coeytaux,

Defendant.

Case No. 3:25-cv-225

COMPLAINT

Under the law of Texas, a person who assists a pregnant woman in obtaining a self-managed abortion commits the crime of murder and can be sued for wrongful death. See Texas Penal Code § 1.07; id. at § 19.02; id. at § 19.06 (murder statute); Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 71.001 et seq. (wrongful-death statute). It is also a state jail felony for anyone other than a Texas-licensed physician to provide an abortion-inducing drug for the purpose of inducing an abortion. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.063(a); Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.065(a).

In violation of these and many other laws, defendant Remy Coeytaux mailed abortion-inducing drugs into Texas that were used to murder Jerry Rodriguez's unborn child. Mr. Rodriguez sues to recover damages from Coeytaux for this wrongful death. Mr. Rodriguez also seeks an injunction to stop Coeytaux from distributing abortion-inducing drugs in violation of state or federal law.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. The Court has subject-matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, as the parties are diverse and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00.

2. The Court has personal jurisdiction over defendant Coeytaux because he purposefully and knowingly mailed abortion-inducing drugs into Texas in violation of state law, and Mr. Rodriguez's claim arises out of those minimum contacts with the forum state.

3. Venue is proper in this district and division because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in Galveston County. See 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2). Venue is additionally proper because each of the defendants resides in Galveston County. See 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1).

PARTIES

4. Plaintiff Jerry Rodriguez is a citizen of Texas.

5. Defendant Remy Coeytaux is a citizen of California, where he operates a solo medical practice.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

6. Plaintiff Jerry Rodriguez began dating Kendal Garza in June of 2024.

7. In July of 2024, Kendal became pregnant with Mr. Rodriguez's child.

8. Although Kendal was happy about the pregnancy and told Mr. Rodriguez that she planned to give birth, her estranged husband (Adam Garza) was displeased and wanted the baby murdered. Kendal had legally separated from Adam years before she started dating Mr. Rodriguez but had not yet divorced him.

9. On September 16, 2024, at 9:10 P.M. central time, Adam Garza ordered abortion-inducing drugs online from Coeytaux with the intent of using them to murder Mr. Rodriguez's unborn child. A Venmo receipt confirming Adam's purchase of the drugs from Coeytaux is attached as Exhibit 1. The receipt indicates that the drugs were purchased for $150.00 from "Remy Coeytaux MD PC" and describes the purchase as "Aed axes Kendal Garza." The first two words ("Aed axes") are homophones for “Aid Access,” an organization that illegally ships abortion-inducing drugs into jurisdictions where abortion has been outlawed. Payment was made with a Visa Debit card whose last four digits are 1012. The payment was remitted to a Venmo account with the handle “@RemyCoeytaux.”

10. After receiving this order, Coeytaux shipped the abortion-inducing drugs to Adam Garza’s house in Galveston County, Texas.

11. On September 19, 2024, Kendal Garza used the drugs that Adam had purchased from Coeytaux to kill the unborn child that she conceived with Mr. Rodriguez. Kendal told Mr. Rodriguez that Adam Garza provided her with the abortion drugs, and that both Adam and her mother (Kim Crawford Williams) pressured her to kill the baby with the drugs obtained from Coeytaux. Kendal ingested the abortion-inducing drugs and killed Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child at Ms. Williams’s house in Galveston County. Kendal was more than 10 weeks pregnant when she took the pills.

12. In late October 2024, Kendal became pregnant for a second time with Mr. Rodriguez’s child. Kendal was again happy about the pregnancy and told Mr. Rodriguez that she planned to give birth to their child, a son. On January 18, 2025, Kendal and Mr. Rodriguez together went to a doctor’s appointment and were provided with sonograms of the baby boy, which are attached as Exhibit 2.

13. But later in January Kendal killed Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn son with abortion pills that were illegally obtained and provided by Adam Garza. This time Kendal took the abortion-inducing drugs at Adam’s house in Galveston County. Kendal proceeded with this self-managed abortion even though she was nearly three months pregnant and even though Mr. Rodriguez pleaded with her not to do it. After the abortion, Kendal texted Mr. Rodriguez and told him that she had to cut the baby boy’s umbilical cord and bury him (although she did not say where).

14. In May of 2025, Kendal became pregnant for a third time with Mr. Rodriguez’s child. She is now two months pregnant. Mr. Rodriguez fears that Adam Garza will again pressure Kendal to kill his unborn child and obtain abortion pills from Coeytaux to commit the murder.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF NO. 1 — WRONGFUL DEATH

15. The wrongful-death statute allows surviving parents to sue those who cause the death of an unborn child by a wrongful act, neglect, carelessness, unskillfulness, or default. See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 71.002(b) (“A person is liable for damages arising from an injury that causes an individual’s death if the injury was caused by the person’s or his agent’s or servant’s wrongful act, neglect, carelessness, unskillfulness, or default.”); Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 71.001(4) (“‘Individual’ includes an unborn child at every stage of gestation from fertilization until birth.”).

16. Defendant Coeytaux caused the death of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child through his wrongful acts, which violated the law in each the following respects:

17. Section 171.063(a)(1) of the Texas Health and Safety Code prohibits anyone other than a Texas-licensed physician from providing abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.063(a) (“A person may not knowingly provide an abortion-inducing drug to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion in the pregnant woman or enabling another person to induce an abortion in the pregnant woman unless: (1) the person who provides the abortion-inducing drug is a physician”). A violation of section 171.063(a)(1) is a state jail felony. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.065(a). Coeytaux is not a Texas-licensed physician, so he violated section 171.063(a)(1) by knowingly sending abortion-inducing drugs into Texas, which he knew would be provided to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion. Coeytaux is also criminally responsible for Adam Garza’s violations of section 171.063(a)(1) because Coeytaux knowingly aided Adam’s provision of abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman. See Tex. Penal Code § 7.02.

18. Section 171.063(a)(2) of the Texas Health and Safety Code prohibits individuals from providing abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman for the purpose of abortion unless they comply with the protocols in subchapter D of chapter 171 of the Texas Health and Safety Code. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.063(a) (“A person may not knowingly provide an abortion-inducing drug to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion in the pregnant woman or enabling another person to induce an abortion in the pregnant woman unless: . . . (2) the provision of the abortion-inducing drug satisfies the protocol authorized by this subchapter”). A violation of section 171.063(a)(2) is a state jail felony. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.065(a). Coeytaux violated section 171.063(a)(2) by knowingly sending abortion-inducing drugs into Texas, which he knew would be provided to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion. Coeytaux is also criminally responsible for Adam Garza’s violations of section 171.063(a)(2) because he knowingly aided Adam’s provision of abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman. See Tex. Penal Code § 7.02.

19. Section 171.0631 of the Texas Health and Safety Code prohibits any person from providing abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman without complying with the informed-consent requirements of subchapter B of chapter 171 of the Texas Health and Safety Code, which include a mandatory ultrasound. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.0631 (“A person may not provide an abortion-inducing drug to a pregnant woman without satisfying the applicable informed consent requirements of Subchapter B.”). A violation of section 171.0631 is a state jail felony. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.065(a). Coeytaux violated section 171.0631 by knowingly sending abortion-inducing drugs into Texas, which he knew would be provided to a pregnant woman for the purpose of inducing an abortion. Coeytaux is also criminally responsible for Adam Garza’s violations of section 171.0631 because he knowingly aided Adam's provision of abortion-inducing drugs to a pregnant woman. See Tex. Penal Code § 7.02.

20. Section 171.003 of the Texas Health and Safety Code prohibits anyone other than a Texas-licensed physician to perform abortions. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.003 (“An abortion may be performed only by a physician licensed to practice medicine in this state.”). Coeytaux is not a Texas-licensed physician, and he performed an abortion in violation of section 171.003 by arranging for the delivery and provision of the abortion pills that Kendal Garza used in her self-managed abortion. Coeytaux further violated section 171.003 by knowingly aiding an illegal self-managed abortion in Texas. See Tex. Penal Code § 7.02.

21. Section 171.011 of the Texas Health and Safety Code prohibits any person from performing an abortion without complying with the informed-consent requirements of subchapter B of chapter 171 of the Texas Health and Safety Code, which include a mandatory ultrasound. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.011 (“A person may not perform an abortion without the voluntary and informed consent of the woman on whom the abortion is to be performed.”). Coeytaux performed an abortion in violation of section 171.011 by arranging for the delivery and provision of the abortion pills that Kendal Garza used in her self-managed abortion, which did not comply with the mandatory ultrasound and other statutory informed-consent requirements in Texas law. Coeytaux has further violated section 171.011 by aiding an illegal self-managed abortion in Texas without complying with the mandatory ultrasound and other statutory informed-consent requirements.

22. Chapter 245 of the Texas Health and Safety Code requires abortions in Texas to be performed in licensed abortion facilities (subject to exceptions not applicable here). See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 245.002(2) (“‘Abortion facility’ means a place where abortions are performed.”); id. at § 245.003(a) (“Except as provided by Section 245.004, a person may not establish or operate an abortion facility in this state without an appropriate license issued under this chapter.”). Coeytaux violated chapter 245 of the Texas Health and Safety Code by performing and assisting an abortion that took place outside a licensed abortion facility.

23. Federal law imposes criminal liability on any person who:

- a. Knowingly uses the mails for the mailing, carriage, or delivery of abortion-inducing drugs;
- b. Knowingly uses any express company, common carrier, or interactive computer service for carriage of abortion-inducing drugs in interstate or foreign commerce; or
- c. Knowingly takes or receives abortion-inducing drugs from an express company, a common carrier, or an interactive computer service.

18 U.S.C. §§ 1461–1462. Coeytaux violated these federal criminal laws by sending abortion-inducing drugs into Texas with the intent of aiding an illegal abortion.

24. Articles 4512.1–4512.6 of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes make abortion a felony criminal offense unless the life of the mother is endangered. Violations of articles 4512.1–4512.6 are punishable by two to five years imprisonment. Coeytaux violated articles 4512.1–4512.6 by performing or assisting an abortion in Texas that was not needed to save the life of the mother.

25. Section 170A.002 of the Texas Health and Safety Code also makes abortion a felony criminal offense unless the abortion is performed to avert the risk of death or a serious risk of substantial impairment of a major bodily function. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 170A.002. Violations of section 170A.002 are punishable by five to 99 years imprisonment. See Tex. Penal Code § 12.32. Coeytaux violated section 170A.002 by performing or assisting an abortion in Texas that was not needed to avert the risk of death or a serious risk of substantial impairment of a major bodily function.

26. Assisting a self-managed abortion in Texas is an act of murder. See Texas Penal Code § 1.07; id. at § 19.02; id. at § 19.06 (murder statute). Although Kendal

Garza cannot be charged with murder for her role in killing her unborn child,¹ her immunity does not shield Coeytaux from liability for aiding or abetting or directly participating in the murder. See Tex. Penal Code § 7.03 (“In a prosecution in which an actor’s criminal responsibility is based on the conduct of another, the actor may be convicted on proof of commission of the offense and that he was a party to its commission, and it is no defense: (1) that the actor belongs to a class of persons that by definition of the offense is legally incapable of committing the offense in an individual capacity; or (2) that the person for whose conduct the actor is criminally responsible has been acquitted, has not been prosecuted or convicted, has been convicted of a different offense or of a different type or class of offense, or is immune from prosecution.”). Coeytaux directly committed murder under section 19.02(b)(1) because he “intentionally and knowingly caused the death” of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child by delivering abortion pills that he knew would be used in an illegal self-managed abortion. See Tex. Penal Code § 19.02(b) (“A person commits an offense if he: (1) intentionally or knowingly causes the death of an individual”). And Coeytaux directly committed murder under section 19.02(b)(2) because he “intended to cause serious bodily injury and committed an act clearly dangerous to human life that caused the death” of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child. See Tex. Penal Code § 19.02(b) (“A person commits an offense if he: . . . (2) intends to cause serious bodily injury and commits an act clearly dangerous to human life that causes the death of an individual”).

27. Coeytaux is also guilty of felony murder under section 19.02(b)(3) of the Texas Penal Code. Coeytaux’s shipment of abortion pills to Adam Garza was a felony. See Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.063(a); Tex. Health & Safety Code § 171.065(a); 18 U.S.C. §§ 1461–1462. Coeytaux also committed an act “clearly dangerous to human life that causes the death of an individual.” Tex. Penal Code § 19.02(b)(3); Texas Penal Code § 1.07 (defining “individual” to include “an unborn child at every stage of gestation from fertilization until birth.”). Coeytaux therefore committed felony murder under section 19.02(b)(3).

1. See Texas Penal Code § 19.06 (“This chapter does not apply to the death of an unborn child if the conduct charged is: (1) conduct committed by the mother of the unborn child”).

28. The manufacturers and distributors of the abortion pills that Kendal used are jointly and severally liable for the wrongful death of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child, and they will be added as defendants once identified. The manufacturer and distributors caused the death of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child through a “wrongful act” because they violated 18 U.S.C. §§ 1461–1462, which imposes federal criminal liability on anyone who knowingly sends or receives abortion pills through the mail or by using any express company, common carrier, or interactive computer service.

29. None of the exceptions in Texas’s wrongful-death statute shield the defendants (or the manufacturers and distributors of the abortion pills) from liability. Sections 71.003(c)(2) and (c)(4) of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code are inapplicable because assisting a self-managed abortion is not a “lawful medical procedure,” nor is it a “lawful medical or health care practice or procedure.” Section 71.003(c)(3) is inapplicable because the abortion pills were not dispensed or administered “in accordance with law.” Coeytaux is therefore liable under section 71.003 and must pay damages to Mr. Rodriguez for murdering his unborn child.

30. Mr. Rodriguez seeks damages in excess of $75,000.00, the minimum amount in controversy required for diversity jurisdiction. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a).

CLAIM FOR RELIEF NO. 2 — INJUNCTION

31. Mr. Rodriguez has standing to seek injunctive relief against Coeytaux because Kendal Garza is again pregnant with his unborn child, and there is a substantial risk that Adam Garza will obtain abortion pills illegally from Coeytaux and provide those to Kendal. See TransUnion LLC v. Ramirez, 594 U.S. 413, 435–36 (2021)

(“[A] person exposed to a risk of future harm may pursue forward-looking, injunctive relief to prevent the harm from occurring”). This risk is fairly traceable to the allegedly unlawful conduct of Coeytaux, who continues to send abortion pills into Texas in violation of state and federal law, and it will be redressed by an injunction that restrains Coeytaux from illegally distributing abortion-inducing drugs.

32. Mr. Rodriguez seeks this injunction on behalf of a class of all current and future fathers of unborn children in the United States. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2).

DEMAND FOR RELIEF

33. Mr. Rodriguez respectfully requests that the court:

- a. certify the class described in paragraph 32;
- b. order Coeytaux to pay nominal, compensatory, and punitive damages to for the wrongful death of Mr. Rodriguez’s unborn child;
- c. permanently enjoin Coeytaux from distributing abortion-inducing drugs in violation of state or federal law, including 18 U.S.C. §§ 1461–1462;
- d. award Mr. Rodriguez court costs and attorneys’ fees; and
- e. grant all other relief that the Court deems just, proper, or equitable.

Respectfully submitted.
